THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

- 1. During the first seven months of 1953, 75,600 tons of vegetables were produced by East German agricultural commodities producement agencies; the plan quota for this period called for an average fulfillment of 16.4 percent of the annual plan quota of 700,000 tons. Actual fulfillment, however, amounted to 10.8 percent (or 13.8 percent, based on a revised plan quota of 400,000 tons).
- 2. During the same period, 38,300 tons of vegetables were purchased; the 1953 plan quota for this period called for 200,000 tons. This amounted to a fulfillment of 19.2 percent, rather than the required 29.3 percent.
